

Final Words

There you have it, a snapshot of my time in country music, real country music I should say. It has been a long winding road for me; when you're in the music business you have peaks and valleys, happiness and heartbreak, work overload and work drought, wonderful relationships and cautious relationships ... and in order to maintain a solid career and a sound mind it is important you balance all those things. For the most part I was able to do that relatively easy. I'm proud to say I did my very best to always represent myself, and those with whom I was doing shows with, in a positive and fan-driven manner. I stayed clear of the evils that sometimes plague folks in the entertainment field.

For your part, I want to sincerely thank each and every one of you for coming along with me on my musical journey. I am well aware that many of you have been with me since the 1950s and for that I am truly grateful. Seven decades plus is a long time to do anything much less music ... but I have to admit that I still love it. In fact, to this day I enjoy picking up the guitar and doing a little picking and singing. Though it is unlikely to happen, I'm not going to emphatically rule out any further 'official' music events in the future ... I still have the love and fortunately the health and ability to do the music.

Lastly, this is not goodbye. John and I plan to leave junewebbmusic.com up as well as monitor the site's email address so if anyone wants to chat or ask a question, I am only junewebbmusic@aol.com away ... as is John.

I have few regrets and only a couple 'hmmm, I wonder ifs' as I sign off for now. So, I will say, 'see you later', and leave you with a big ol' online hug; again ... thank you.
