

The DJs That Played My Music

I'd also like to thank the DJs that played my music back in the 1950s and 1960s whose names escape me now and the ones that have played my music since returning ... Darwin Lee Hill in Poughkeepsie NY, a longtime friend of mine <> Miro Desperak in Poland, a friend and true traditional country music fan <> Ken Hippler in Minnesota, a longtime friend of John <> Barry Wass in Australia [recently retired] <> Dann Hansen in Sweden <> Dick Storm in Michigan; a dear friend of ours and a fine person ... he has done a lot to support and promote my music <> and last but not least, Noel Parry in New Zealand. They have all been good to me over the past nine years and some years longer on their Traditional Country Music radio shows, especially Dick and Ken. One DJ earns special recognition ... he has been incredibly good to me and my music. Noel Parry, who has become a dear friend to John and me, hosts a fine three-hour country music show each Wednesday evening New Zealand time [Tuesday late night eastern time ... 10:30 PM this time of year]. He streams live via the Internet on the Radio Southland website [<http://radiosouthland.org.nz/>]. At one time Noel played almost exclusively old traditional country music but as his popularity has grown by leaps and bounds, he gets CDs of newer traditional-like country singing artists from around the globe that are looking for airtime. To that end, he plays their traditional-like as well a pure traditional country music ... it is a fascinating show to listen to ... it seems traditional-type country music still thrives everywhere but here in the U.S. where it originated. Noel, if he can, thoughtfully spins three of my songs each week. Thank you, Noel! Note: John here ... now folks, here is a big treat ... on March 27, 2018 [Eastern U.S.] Noel did a 60-minute June Webb dedication. Miss June and would like to share it with you. I have broken it down into two parts so it will load easier. Enjoy it! [Part 1 and Part 2]
